PURSES OPEN FOR AID OF ORPHANS

County's Best Fruit and Vegetables Go forward on Specially Chartered Car. Gettysburg Churches Contribute their Share.

The appeal of the orphan was never more generously responded to than by the Lutherans of Adams County to-day when an opportunity was given to send to the Tressler Home at Loysville apples, potatoes, and other things to meet the demands of a larger depleted by a failure of crops during the past summer.

A unique method of gathering the things was adopted, a large freight car starting from Gettysburg this afternoon in charge of a representative of the Home who saw to the loading of the provisions at all the stations along the Reading where gifts had been brought. To-morrow the car will go up the Cumberland Valley where it will gather more good things.

From the Lutheran congregations of Gettysburg and the nearby rural communities there were sent to-day on this car 38 bags of potatoes, one barrel of potatoes, 15 bushels of potatoes, four barrels of apples, three baskets of apples, seven bags of vegetables, pumpkins, turnips, beets, and cabbage, soap, three boxes of canned goods, three boxes of canned fruit, and six packages of clothing. The entire shipment from here weighed 1525 pounds, or three quarters of a ton.

Over five tons of provisions were loaded on the car at Biglerville. Of this amount the Lutheran churches at Arendtsville, Flohr's, and Cashtown contributed 6600 pounds as follows: one barrel of potatoes, 20 bags of potatoes, 14 barrels of apples, package of notions, two boxes of apples, seven boxes of soap, hamper of pears, hamper of apples, 14 boxes of canned fruit, two barrels of cabbage, six boxes of flour, one package of clothes.

The Biglerville and Bender's Lutheran churches contributed 2272 pounds divided as follows: five barrels of canned fruit, one box of canned fruit, one box of apples, one box of flour, crate of cabbage, bag of cabbage, five bags of potatoes, two hampers of apples, bag of corn, barrel of apples, bag of pears, box of soap. Nine hundred pounds of potatoes, sent from the College Lutheran church, Gettysburg, were loaded at Biglerville Station.

The consignment at Bendersville consisted of four barrels of apples, several bags of apples, eight bags of potatoes, soap, apples and potatoes in boxes, and clothing. The entire shipment from Aspers, Bendersville, and other nearby places, weighed between 1500 and 1600 pounds.

At the other smaller stations along the route other things were put on the car and the donations were most generous and of the kind that are most needed at this well conducted orphan's home.

SOON TO START

Last Year's Receipts only a Little More than the Expenses.

A meeting of the finance committee of the Civic Nurse Association was held on Thursday evening and plans were made for the annual canvas for funds which will be started the early part of November. It is the idea to follow the method of other years and, in addition to the regular contributors, a house to house canvass will be made. Although there is now a balance in bank the receipts last year were just $9.00 more than the expenses so that the contributions will have to be fully as liberal for 1916 as they were for the past twelve months.

COMING WEDDINGS

Miss Keeney, of Hanover, to marry Gettysburg Man.

Mr. and Mrs. John Keeney, of Hanover, announce the engagement of their daughter, Grace M. Keeney, to Edward J. Zinkand, of Mummasburg street. The wedding will take place at the bride's home on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Elizabeth S. Reed, and G. Herbert Wood, of Chambersburg, which will take place at six o'clock, Thursday evening, November 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Reed. A reception will immediately follow the ceremony.

TWO PRESIDENTS ON OPENING DAY

Heads will be on Stage at First Session of this Year's Teachers' Institute.

Doing away with the long established custom of a formal address of welcome and response at the opening of the annual Teachers' Institute, County Superintendent Roth has provided in their stead at the first session in Walter's Theatre on Monday afternoon, November 15, a lecture on "Peace" by Dr. Joseph Swayne, president of Swarthmore College.

Dr. Swayne is secured at no little expense, and the session, which will be free to the public as will all the other day sessions of the institute, will be one of the best of the entire week. Dr. Swayne, who will be introduced by President Granville of Gettysburg College, will come as the special representative of the American Peace Society, which last year provided Dr. Arthur D. Call to deliver a lecture on "History and War." It was most acceptable.

The custom of having an address of welcome has come to be a mere formality, especially in view of the fact that the teachers pay their own expenses while here and are in no respect the guests of the town. It was a useless waste of time in the minds of many and the action of Prof. Roth in deciding to do away with it will meet with general approval, especially in view of the securing of Dr. Swayne.

He will arrive here at 1:45 on Monday afternoon of Institute week and will leave at four o'clock the same day, his time being very much in demand, so much so, in fact, that it was feared for quite a while that the efforts to secure him would be unsuccessful.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Jenny Wrens and their Friends Enjoy Happy Evening.

The young girls of the Gettysburg Camp Fire of Jenny Wrens held a most enjoyable Halloween masque at the home of Edith Sheely on Thursday evening. Miss Frances Fritchey and Miss Amy Swone had charge of the affair, but the girls themselves, grouped in different committees, planned and arranged all details. The various costumes, some elaborate, some weird, and some ridiculous, added to the fun. Besides the regular Halloween stunts, there were a spooky visit to the ghost's cave, and a clever witch's fire. The young people present included, Misses Louise Bender, Lucile Bender, Elizabeth Evans, Justine Hartley, Jeanne Heindel, Elizabeth Huber, Bessie Kelly, Martha and Margaret Majors, Anna Miller, Genevieve Power, Helen Pfeiffer, Lorene Roth, Helen Sefton, Edith Sheely, Evelyn Toot, Frances Turner, and William Duncan, Charles McFall, Reginald Francis, Paul Spangler, Prof. Wing, Otto Lantz, Paul Hixon, Andrew Bigham, James Gilliland, Thomas Turner, Robert Hartley, Clarence Sheely, Theodore Eberman, Huber Blocher, Harold Roth, William Weaver, Harold Mumper, Henry Bream, and Charles Miller.

FAMILY PARTY

GET FIRST CLASS CONCERT COMPANY

Mid-Winter will Have High Class Musical Feature, Similar to those of Other Years. This Time at Price within Reach of All.

Gettysburg is to have another first class musical attraction this winter, continuing the series started several years ago which included David Bigham, Madam Da Sylva, and the Kneisel Quartet. The company secured for this winter is the Manhattan Ladies' Quartet, an organization which ranks in vocal music with the Kneisel Quartet in instrumental.

The task of securing this attraction has been in the hands of the Woman's League of the college and they announced this morning that January 29th would be the date. The concert or recital will be given at reasonable prices, possibly 25, 35, and 50 cents, so that it will be within the reach of all and the dollar ticket plan of other years will not be followed.

The fact that the date selected is McKinley's Birthday will allow an artistic touch to be added to the arrangements for it is expected that the carnation will appear prominently in the stage decorations while the usual individual observance of the day will provide for the favorite flower of the martyr president among the audience.

The arrangements for the concert are now in the hands of the entertainment committee of the local league. It is expected that the proceeds will be used toward the Y. M. C. A. building fund, which it is believed the general league will adopt next week as a definite object toward which all the individual leagues will strive. It is planned to have this building cost about $15,000, and the object will appeal generally, as well as the merit of the company secured.

YOUTH ON TRIAL IN YORK COURT

Manslaughter Charge is Pressed by the Commonwealth. Hard Cider Intimated as Possible Cause of Fatal Altercation.

Roy Reynolds, 18 years old, residing near Delta, was put on trial Thursday in York County Court before Judge Ross and a jury, to answer a charge of manslaughter, growing out of the death of Lawrence Singleton, Reynolds' brother-in-law.

These two young men, in company with Clifford Burkins, were walking on the public road near Reynolds' home on Sunday afternoon, September 26, last, when Reynolds, being hungry, crawled through a barbed wire fence into an adjoining field to get some turnips. After getting some of the vegetables he came back through the fence and in so doing tore his clothing in the sharp wire barbs. This seemed to anger Singleton, and some words ensued between him and Reynolds, the outcome of which was that Singleton struck Reynolds. The latter then retaliated with two blows, one of which knocked Singleton upon his hands and knees, and the second prostrated him to the ground.

Reynolds and Burkins both tried to help Singleton to his feet, but could not. They then hurried for Reynolds' father, who quickly came, but when he attempted to raise the fallen youth, death had already occurred. The post-mortem examination showed that Singleton died from a dislocated neck. Whether this came directly from the blow from Reynolds' fist, or from the resulting fall upon the ground, is not definitely known.

Before the walk upon the road began, the three boys above named, in company with two other youths, were at the Singleton home. There they were drinking hard cider, the influence of which was still apparent on the principals at the time the fight occurred on the public road. Singleton was over 20 years of age and was married to Reynolds' sister.

In outlining the case to the jury, District Attorney Gross stated that the circumstances of the death of Singleton did not warrant an indictment for murder either of the first or second degree, but that the guilt of the defendant could rise no higher than voluntary or involuntary manslaughter. Voluntary manslaughter he defined to be the intentional killing of another without premeditation and in sudden heat or passion, while involuntary manslaughter is the unintentional killing as the result of an unlawful act or of a lawful act done in an unlawful manner.

WOMEN HUNTERS

Few Rabbits Reported in Cumberland Near Opening of the Season.

With the opening of the rabbit season, on Monday, Cumberland County's three women hunters will be among the number to take the field and will endeavor to maintain their present records of equaling or excelling in the game totals the majority of the sterner sex.

Mrs. John Kendig, Newville, wife of a rural mail carrier, is one of the modern dianas who have won a reputation for prowess on the hunting field. Mrs. Kendig was the first woman to take out a license and on the opening fifteen days got the limit in squirrels and also secured several pheasants while in camp with her husband in the foothills of the North Mountain. She has been interested in the sport since girlhood, and while her activities as yet have been confined to small game, she hopes before the close of the season to have a deer kill to her credit.

Miss Anna Nell, Churchtown, is another of the feminine devotees of dog and gun, and, in excursions with some of the best shots of the county, has kept pace with the others. She also expects to go after deer this year. The upper end of Cumberland also has come into prominence in this field through the shooting of Harriet A. Heagy, Moversville, R. D., who is considered an expert in field and trap shooting.

THE Woman's League luncheon will be held Friday, November 5th, at one o'clock. Tickets can be purchased from Mrs. Picking, Baltimore street; Mrs. Musselman and Mrs. Burgoon, Springs avenue.—advertisement 1

FRENCH DRIVE BACK BULGARS

Russian Warships Are Bombarding Varna.

RUMANIA IS FACTION TORN

Entente Strategy May Now Aim to Cut Teuton Communications With Constantinople.

London, Oct. 29.—Austro-Hungarian and Bulgarian forces in northern Serbia have smashed their way to fresh victories, but news from southern Serbia is more hopeful for the allies. The Bulgarians are reported to have been driven out of the important railway town of Uskub, and most of Macedonia has been cleared of their troops by the French. A whole regiment (3000 men) is said to have surrendered to the Serbs in the Timok valley.

Russia is also reported to have begun active operations along the Bulgarian Black sea coast. Varna is being shelled and has suffered much damage.

On the other hand, the Bulgarians report important progress in their advance on Nish, having captured Pirot, an important fortress thirty-five miles east of Nish, and the towns of Zajcar and Knjaevan, on the railway from Negotin to the Serbian city.

The junction of the Austro-German and Bulgarian armies in northeastern Serbia, gives the Teutonic allies a semi-circular battle line nearly 300 miles long, from the Drina river to a point near Strumitza.

The Germans having effected a junction with their Bulgarian allies, giving them land connections with Constantinople, it is possible that the entente campaign will be shifted from an effort to relieve Serbia to an attempt to cut these communications with Turkey.

The Bulgar-Teuton junction is hailed in Berlin as opening the road to Constantinople, and it is reported the Germans have already taken steps to get war supplies through to the Turks.

From scores of Hungarian ports on the Danube steamships and barges, filled with munitions of war have begun to move. They will proceed as far as Nikopol, Svislov and Russe, in Bulgaria, whence their cargoes will be hurried by rail to the Dardanelles. The Havas agency correspondent at Athens sends word to Paris that railway communication between Salonika and Velea has been re-established and that a military train, going a long distance northward from Velea, encountered no Bulgarian troops.

A Central News despatch from Zurich says that 70,000 Turkish soldiers have arrived at the Bulgarian port of Dedagatch.

The internal situation of Bulgaria, which is reported serious, may have some effect on the Serbian campaign. A military conspiracy against King Ferdinand, Athens despatches say, has been unearthed, and the leaders have been shot. Many of the inhabitants of Bulgaria are said to be still loyal to Russia and are showing a disinclination to join the colors.

The Rumanians, too, are displaying some uneasiness over the inactivity of their government, and an agitation in favor of the allies is being carried on, according to unofficial reports, by influential leaders. It is reported from Bucharest that war demonstrations are taking place there.

REFUSES TO PASS CARGOES

Britain Will Not Let U. S. Have Goods Paid for Before Embargo.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The British foreign office has declined to permit shipment to the United States from Rotterdam of goods contracted for or paid for in Germany or Austria between March 1 and March 15, Ambassador Page advised the state department.

American importers had pressed for this concession through the foreign trade advisors of the state department, because Ambassador Page was not notified of the British embargo until March 15.

This means that millions of dollars' worth of goods, intended largely for the Christmas trade, will not be brought to this country.

British Oil Ship Torpedoed

Newport News, Oct. 29.—News of the sinking of the British tank steamship Balakant, from Port Arthur, Dartmouth, Eng., was received in a letter from the Captain F. A. White, who wrote: "I have another scar to rub off with the German. They torpedoed us, killing six men. Everything was lost." The date, time or other details of the sinking were not given.

KAISER MAY HAVE TALKED PEACE

Washington Interested in His Conference With Gerard.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Ambassador Gerard's recent conference with Emperor William is causing much speculation in official quarters.

Secretary of State Lansing said that the ambassador had not been directed to visit the emperor and that no report of the conference had been received.

It is generally assumed that on the return of the emperor to Potsdam, the ambassador made an informal visit in the interest of German-American relations. The satisfactory settlement of the Arabic case gives ground for belief that the ambassador might have sought the emperor's views on several diplomatic questions held in abeyance owing to the submarine controversy.

The possibility that Emperor William might have taken advantage of the opportunity to express to Ambassador Gerard Germany's views on peace was generally talked of, particularly as a consequence of published reports that Germany intended soon to make known the basis on which she would make peace.

Reports that Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor and ambassador to Italy, was to visit King Alfonso of Spain and later the United States, have attracted much attention because of the belief that he might be entrusted with the task of explaining Germany's viewpoint.

President Wilson has made it clear that until one of the belligerents indicated plainly a desire to accept mediation there would be no initiative on the part of the American government.

LULL ON WESTERN FRONT

Paris Reports Only Minor Engagements After a Valuable Gain.

London, Oct. 29.—A lull has fallen upon the battle front in the western theatre of war, according to the brief official communication given out by the French war office, saying:

"There was reported nothing more than some outpost engagements and reconnaissances of small importance, which everywhere resulted in our favor."

The French made a valuable gain southeast of Neuville-St. Vaast, on the road between Arras and Lille.

The attack was preceded by the explosion of heavily charged mines, which tore up the enemy's trenches at this point and destroyed their barbed wire entanglements. The instant after the mines were detonated the French troops rushed forward and occupied the craters made by the explosions, strengthening the new positions.

The German guns to the rear at once began a heavy bombardment, under cover of which the Germans recognized and made repeated counterattacks in an effort to regain the positions, but the French held the advantage.

The Germans made another gas attack yesterday east of Rheims, but were completely repulsed.

21 CHILDREN DIE IN SCHOOL FIRE

Flames Sweep Parochial School at Peabody, Mass.

CAUSE OF DISASTER UNKNOWN

Boy and Girl Pupils Burned or Crushed to Death and Heap of Bodies Blocked Firemen.

Peabody, Mass., Oct. 29.—While 700 boys and girls were at their morning prayers in the parochial school of St. John's Catholic church fire, starting in the basement, swept through the three stories of the brick and wooden building in less than five minutes.

Twenty-one children, none out of their teens, were burned or crushed to death while attempting to escape. Nine are missing, a score of others were injured, several seriously.

The bodies of the dead were frightfully burned and of the nineteen at the morgue only two, Elizabeth Nolan, seventeen years old, and Mary Sullivan, sixteen years old, members of the senior class, had been identified. Wilfred Mead, also sixteen, died on the way to the hospital.

The origin of the fire is in doubt. Angus McDonald, of the state police, believes it originated in a closet near the stairway and was caused by a hot air explosion.

Mother Superior Aldegion, who was in charge of the sisters who taught in the school, heard an explosion and detecting smoke, sounded the alarm. There were no fire escapes on the outside of the building, but wide stairways at either end of the interior led down to the front exit. Under fire drill, the children were marched through constantly thickening clouds of smoke to the ground floor, when the leaders lost their heads.

Instead of passing out the rear exit, according to rule, they made a dash for the front door and became jammed in the vestibule. Meantime the fire had eaten its way upward from directly under the front entrance and the vestibule crowded with pupils presently was enveloped in flames.

Their exit thus blocked, scores of the children clambered through the windows of the first floor or jumped from those on the second and third floors. The sisters worked heroically to save their charges. Two of the nuns were injured, but the loss of life would have been appalling had not the sisters taken places at windows and passed or thrown the little children to the street.

Firemen with two lines of hose made a rush at the doorway and tried to fight their way in. A sudden sweep of draft sent the flames so fairly in their faces that they were beaten back. They made a second try, this time throwing over the tangle of small bodies a number of heavy rubber blankets. Then from outside the door and as near as they could get, they directed a stream of water upon the blankets in a desperate hope of keeping off the flames till rescue could be made.

But in a short time, so desperately swift was the progress of the fire, efforts of the firemen were needed elsewhere. They turned over one of the hoses to Timothy O'Connor, a policeman. He forced his way to the doorway and there stood, spraying the water over the blanket-covered heap. The walls above the policeman trembled and threatened to fall, but he stood his ground, his face blistered by the heat. The steady work of the hose in O'Connor's hand kept back the flames that crept along the floor toward the bodies and made possible the saving of life.

BRITISH WARSHIP WRECKED

Cruiser Argyll Runs Aground on Coast of Scotland in Fog.

London, Oct. 29.—The British cruiser Argyll has run aground and may be a total wreck.

All hands were rescued. This was made known by the admiralty in the following announcement: "H. M. S. Argyll, Captain James Tancred, R. N., grounded off the coast of Scotland. Owing to bad weather prevailing, it is feared she may become a total wreck. All her officers and the crew have been saved."

Cashes Check Drawn in 1901

Milton, Del., Oct. 29.—After carrying a check for fourteen years, G. G. Torbert finally cashed it Thursday. Torbert explained by saying that he had never needed the money and was not in a great hurry to get it. The check was drawn on the New York City Commission Merchants, by George Allison, Inc., and dated July 29, 1901.

RUSSIANS MENACED BY GERMAN WEDGE

Invaders Battle Desperately to Separate Armies.

Petrograd, Oct. 28.—Ukhuel and Iloukai are the points at which the Germans are making their biggest effort to force the Dvina.

Ukhuel is on the right flank of their Riga positions and Iloukai is on the left flank of their Dvinsk positions. Simultaneous attacks at these two points are being made, with the object of separating the Russian Riga and Dvinsk armies.

The seriousness of this effort is not to be minimized. The Germans know well that a new Russian advance is only a matter of time. To meet that advance on a strong front it is necessary for them to hold the Dvina line before winter sets in. Otherwise their position will be perpetually insecure. Moreover, established beyond the Dvina, they can hold their front with a much smaller force and devote closer attention to the western and Serbian fronts.

The number of troops operating directly against Dvinsk is not extraordinarily large—about 80,000 men on a twenty-eight mile front—but they are supported by an astonishing quantity of artillery, which at maximum intensity pours out shells at the rate of 100,000 a day. This reckless expenditure has led to interruptions in supply.

MYSTERY IN GIRL'S DEATH

Headless Body Found on Railroad Tracks in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 29.—The headless body of Miss Sophia McCallin, daughter of the late William C. McCallin, former mayor of Pittsburgh, was found on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at Roup, a passenger station within the city limits.

The body was so badly crushed that identification was impossible until Thursday, when her absence from the office of E. S. Morrow, city controller, whose secretary she was, started an inquiry, and was established by a diamond pin bearing her name.

The circumstances leading to her death are a mystery. Nearly fifty passenger trains stop at the station during the afternoon and night.

Boy Runs Away; Drowned in Creek

Bethlehem, Pa., Oct. 29.—Clarence Keim, four years old wandered to the Monocacy creek with a companion, fell into the stream and was drowned. Just an hour before the lad's mother missed him and found him near the creek. She took him home but soon after he again escaped.

2033 Serb Prisoners Taken

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The Austro-German invasion of Serbia has been pushed further to the south. Army headquarters announced that further ground had been gained, and that the army of General Gallwitz had taken 2033 prisoners since October 23.

Bite of Scorpions.

The bite of a scorpion less than two inches in length is no more irritating than a bee sting. Large scorpions may carry a dose of poison capable of producing a good deal of local irritation and causing some disturbance of the system. Strong soda water should be applied locally. Aromatic spirits of ammonia may be given internally if the face is pale.

Cal-Sino Colic Cure Teaspoon Does No Drenching.

Colic comes when you least expect it and without warning, often at night. That is why it is well to keep a bottle of Cal-Sino Colic Cure on hand, or advise your neighbor to keep it so you can borrow it from him when you want it.

It will cure colics quickly and without a lot of after effects. The circular that comes with each bottle tells you how to recognize and treat every kind of colic. It was written by Dr. Voltz the Cal-Sino consulting veterinarian of 35 years practicing experience after whose formulas all CAL-SINO REMEDIES are prepared.

SMALL DOSES

Cal-Sino Colic Cure is given in teaspoon doses—no drenching. 6 dose bottle, 25¢; 32 dose bottle, $1.00. Be sure to order a bottle, give a trial and be convinced. You will use it ever after.

There are 18 Cal-Sino Remedies for various ailments of Horses, Cattle, Swine and Poultry. Ask us to tell you about them.

Rings of Saturn.

Recent spectroscopic analysis of Saturn's rings indicates that they are composed of solid matter, probably dust, that is, nebular matter which has passed through its liquid to solid form, and is now furnishing that planet with a dustlike material similar to that of the earth during the quaternary period.

His Practical Mind.

A certain famous British cathedral, which shall be nameless, was visited by two farmers. A clergyman on the same errand waited by them, curious to hear their opinion of it. At length, after looking long and earnestly at its interior space and height, one said to the other: "Man, John, what a fine lot of hay ye could put in here!"

MEXICO'S TURBULENT LIFE NOW ENTERING NEW PHASE

Trouble Started in February, 1913. When Madero Was Assassinated.

Here is an outline of Mexico's turbulent history, which has entered a new phase:

President Francisco I. Madero assassinated Feb. 23, 1913, while "attempting to escape" from General Huerta's troops.

General Victoriano Huerta takes title of "provisional president" and calls a session of congress for April, 1913. Governor Don Venustiano Carranza of Coahuila leads revolution against Huerta on March 26, 1913.

President Wilson raises embargo on arms shipments to rebels Feb. 3, 1914, forecasting end of Huerta regime.

American bluejackets arrested at Tampico by Huerta's soldiers on April 9, 1914, and the following day Rear Admiral Henry T. Mayo demands salute of the American flag.

American troops land in Vera Cruz April 21, 1914, to force Huerta to salute the flag.

Representatives of so called A. R. C. powers called into conference to mediate between Huerta and the United States April 25, 1914.

Revolutionist General Carranza refuses to permit armistice for conference to settle all Mexican difficulties. Niagara Falls conference agreed upon.

Farical election of Huerta as president of Mexico takes place, and on July 15, 1914, he hands in resignation. General Carranza enters Mexico City at the head of troops Aug. 20, 1914.

General Villa begins revolution against Carranza Sept. 23, 1914.

Another pan-American conference called, but attempts to arrange peace parleys between warring Mexican factions fail.

United States decides to recognize Carranza on Oct. 19, 1915.

HOWARD J. HARTMAN

Republican Candidate FOR SHERIFF

To the voters of Adams County

Your vote for Howard J. Hartman for Sheriff of Adams County on November 2, will insure an efficient administration of this important office. As a successful farmer, born and raised in Mt. Joy Township; a careful and practical business man, of well known integrity and wide experience, his candidacy will naturally appeal to the intelligent voters of Adams County.

The office of Sheriff is peculiar in that it effects particularly the private and public interests of the individual. If his duties are discharged with fairness and impartiality, the best interests of the citizens are conserved. Mr. Hartman possesses all of these qualifications.

Mr. Hartman has never held a public office; he is in the prime of life and will, if elected, personally discharge the duties of the office. The voters of Adams County can therefore be assured that the election of Mr. Hartman, as Sheriff of Adams County, will guarantee not only a careful, honest and economical administration, but also will protect and safeguard the private as well as the public interests of our citizens.

Mr. Hartman therefore deserves your support, and your vote and influence on November 2nd, and will be appreciated.

CALDWELL, AUCT. MILLER, CLERK.

H. A. MYERS.

(Political advertising).

Charles W. Gardner,

who now asks your support for REGISTER AND RECORDER is the same man who withdrew in favor of his opponent at the last election because that man was in such a position that he needed the office and could not work at anything except a clerical position. Naturally he was looked upon by the Court to assume the burden of the office when Mr. Berkheimer died. He showed he knew how to handle the work when the opportunity came. It is now the privilege of the voters to show appreciation of his sterling qualities. Vote for him on Tuesday.

The Stuff that makes the motors go

When weather forecasts say "colder," watch out for rising barometer of gas consumption. That is, unless you use Atlantic Gasoline. It will give you practically the same number of miles per gallon as you got last August.

This is the gas to feed in all weathers. Its qualities are regulated so as to insure instant carburetion at low temperatures.

ATLANTIC GASOLINE

Atlantic Gasoline is made from the finest crude oil that flows. It's clean as filtered water. It leaves a minimum of carbon. It saves you expensive carburetor troubles, because carburetors on a steady diet of Atlantic Gas seldom need adjusting. Every gallon is exactly like the last—its uniform "boiling point" is a definite standard. Be sure you say Atlantic Gasoline—it puts pep in your motor. All good garages sell Atlantic Gasoline and Atlantic trucks and tanks deliver any quantity, anywhere, any time.

POLARINE keeps upkeep down

Atlantic Polarine will feed at zero weather as freely as at high temperatures. It keeps cylinder walls covered with a film of oil—they don't get parched when you use Polarine.

WHERE there are no radiators and where you are cooking things which require a great length of time it is a good plan to remove the pan from the cooker when the time is half gone and reheat it over the fire.

Vegetable Soup.—Two cupsful brown soup stock, two cupsful tomato juice, one cupful carrots, one cupful turnips, one-half cupful celery, one cupful peas, one onion, one cupful diced potatoes and seasoning. To the soup stock and tomato juice add the diced carrots, turnips, onion, celery, potatoes, peas and seasoning. Boil slowly for ten minutes, and then place in the cooler for three hours.

Boiled White Fish.—Clean and bone the fish and sew in a cheesecloth bag, leaving room for the fish to swell. Place in kettle, with back down. Cover with boiling salted water, allowing one tablespoonful salt and vinegar or lemon juice to each quart of water. Boil for five minutes. Place in cooler for one hour. If fish weighs over two pounds boil ten minutes before placing in cooler. The skin may be easily peeled from a boiled fish. Serve with tomato sauce.

Beef Stew.—Two pounds of round steak, three cupsful water, one teaspoonful salt, dash pepper, one carrot, one turnip, one stalk celery and one onion. Remove the skin from the meat and cut into inch pieces, place in kettle, add water and seasoning. Cut the carrot, turnip and celery into one-half inch cubes and add to mixture; also the onion, sliced. Boil for ten minutes and place in cooler for three hours. Thicken with four tablespoonfuls of flour and one-half cupful of water, well mixed.

Chicken Curry.—Three pound chicken, one-half cupful of butter, two small onions, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one teaspoonful of vinegar, one tablespoonful of curry powder and boiling water. Clean, singe and cut the chicken. Put the butter in a hot frying pan and add the chicken. Chop the giblets and onions, add salt, vinegar and curry powder. Cover with boiling water and place in the cooler for four hours, using one radiator. When ready to serve remove chicken. Thicken the liquid with flour, strain and pour over the chicken. Garnish with rice.

Vote For

John H. Deatrach

of Biglerville

FOR

Clerk of Courts

The voters of Adams County will make no mistake in voting for JOHN H. DEATRICK for Clerk of Courts.

His nomination suggests his popularity. He will make a capable, efficient and careful officer. The voters of Adams County will not misplace their confidence by electing him.

Mr. Deatrach lost a foot by the accidental discharge of a gun which rendered him unable to do manual labor.

Give JOHN H. DEATRICK your support on Nov. 2, 1915.

For President Judge

OF GETTYSBURG

To the Voters of Adams and Fulton Counties:

In the selection of a man for President Judge of this 51st Judicial District, you have in J. L. Butt, Esq., a gentleman born and raised on the farm, and at the present time extensively engaged in farming. No one can argue against the statement that a farmer-lawyer is best fitted as a judge to the people of this district, because of the fact that the population is largely made up of farmers.

It is therefore for the country voters to say on Nov. 2nd whether or not they want an associate in their business to also preside over the legal end of their welfare.

Most naturally Mr. Butt solicits the support of his farmer friends, but he also solicits that of every business and professional man in the district. Of practical legal training, his ability as a Jurist is unquestioned.

Mr. Butt's investments have been chiefly in farms, and it has been through this that he has been brought close to the farmer and his needs. He is a large employer of farm labor, having continuously in his employ from 40 to 80 men, and it is but natural that the farmers of the district give him their hearty support.

Mr. Butt has given you a fair, square answer to the license questions, that he will "impartially and conscientiously" do his duty under the law and the decision of the higher courts. Every voter can understand this. It is the only proper answer that a candidate should give under the law and decisions of the Superior and Supreme Courts.

It Pays to Dress Well

Attire may not make the man, but it sometimes does a lot towards making him successful.

The well garbed man commands favorable attention from his business associates.

His clothes are an asset.

Dressing well, does not mean dressing foppishly or extravagantly.

Men's clothing is standardized and is moderately priced.

Information helpful to the man who wants to keep up the appearances that mean so much to him will be found in the advertising columns of The Times.

STEEL DEMAND OUTRUNS MILLS

Every Blast Furnace in Country
Rushed With Orders.

OUTPUT 50,000,000 TONS

Chairman of U. S. Steel Corporation
Sees Increasing Activity at Higher Range.

New York, Oct. 29.—So great has been the sudden and general revival in the iron and steel trade of the United States, it was said by authorities, that with virtually every blast furnace and steel mill in the country working night and day to capacity, the demand for iron, steel and steel products cannot be satisfied and it is today almost impossible to buy, for immediate delivery, pig iron, scrap or ingots in sizeable quantities at any industrial plant in the country.

The revival began about the first of July, has been coming on rapidly, with a deluge of orders since the middle of August, and may not yet have reached its high mark. Within three months, the price of pig iron, long regarded as the barometer of trade, has increased approximately thirty-five per cent, and that of steel and steel products—except steel rails—has gone up about fifteen per cent. "At the present time the demand for pig iron and various lines of steel is in excess of the producing capacity of the furnaces and mills of the United States," reads a statement issued by Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation. "The manufacturers are unable to make deliveries entirely satisfactory to the purchasers with respect to a large majority of the different kinds of finished steel."

There is nothing to indicate that there will be a decrease in demand for any of these products for some time.

Experts who have followed the rising fortunes of iron and steel within the past twelve months asserted that the volume of business, both domestic and foreign, at present is more than double what it was a year ago and that there are 175,000 men employed at iron and steel plants throughout the United States who were not on the payrolls a year ago. This is about fifty per cent. increase.

The fires have been lighted in virtually every blast furnace in the United States. In the case of the steel corporation the last remaining idle furnace at Columbus, Ohio, is now being put into operation.

Steel and steel products are rolling out of the mills at the rate of 50,000,000 tons a year, it is conservatively estimated, and iron is being manufactured at the rate of 40,000,000 tons. Yet with all the present activity, so great is the demand, it is stated, especially the foreign demand, that it is virtually impossible to buy for immediate delivery.

Pennay Places $7,250,000 Order
Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—A sure sign of returning prosperity is seen in the action of the Pennsylvania railroad in ordering 175,000 tons of steel rails and seventy-five locomotives. The steel rails will cost approximately $5,250,000, while the locomotives will cost $2,000,000 a total of $7,250,000. The orders for steel rails which were mailed from Broad street station are for the Pennsylvania lines east and west of Pittsburgh, while the locomotives are for the Pennsylvania railroad.

Russia Seeks $100,000,000 Credit
New York, Oct. 29.—Agents of the Russian government, it was reliably reported here, are seeking to establish a credit loan in this country, somewhat similar to the recent $500,000,000 Anglo-French credit loan—although no bond issue is contemplated—of from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 and more, if it can be obtained.

Saloons Can't Sell Cigars Sunday
Chicago, Oct. 29.—Strict enforcement of the Sunday saloon closing law in Chicago was reinforced by an opinion formally filed by the corporation counsel with the council license committee, holding that saloonkeepers may not keep their places open on Sundays for the purpose of selling cigars or soft drinks.

Barrow Halts Wedding
Reading, Pa., Oct. 29.—Because of a fall upon the sharp edge of a wheelbarrow on the morning of his wedding day, George Lohr's marriage at Olney Line to Miss Kate Redding was postponed one week. He cut his head open and was unconscious for nearly a day after the accident.

AVIATOR LOST IN FOG

Eeryl H. Kendrick Flew from Albany, N. Y., to Ocean City, Md., Oct. 29.—Eeryl H. Kendrick, who left Albany, N. Y., in a flying boat, in an attempt to fly to Cape Hatteras, N. C., arrived here. He was lost in the fog off the Delaware capes for about two hours. He resumed his flight.

Kendrick passed Tarrytown two hours after his start from Albany. He was flying several hundred feet above the Hudson River. He was followed by J. B. R. Verplanck, who had joined him in a hydroplane at Chelsea.

Kendrick arrived at New York City completing the first stage of his intended flight. He had followed the Hudson river from Albany, and was flying about 3500 feet above the river when he reached New York. He soared over the Statue of Liberty, and attracted much interest from persons on vessels and along the water front as he passed down the bay, headed toward Staten Island.

N. J. CENTRAL MUST GIVE UP COAL STOCK

and Wilkes-Barre Holdings.

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—The United States district court here, in a final decree dismissing the government's suit against the so-called anthracite trust, orders that within ninety days a plan be submitted for the disposal by the Central railroad of New Jersey of all securities of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company now owned or controlled by it.

In its decree the court maintains that the union of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company and the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre company, through the instrumentality of the Reading company, the holding corporation, is a combination in restraint of trade and violates the anti-trust act of 1890.

A despatch from Washington says that government officials hailed the final decree as a victory. The order directing the disposal of the coal stock by the Central railroad, it was said, was a virtual triumph for the government.

The plan of dissolution between the Jersey Central and the coal company must in its execution effectually dissolve the unlawful combination and create "a situation in harmony with law." Should the defendants fail to present such a plan within the period stated, or if the plans submitted shall be rejected, the court will take the necessary steps, by receivership or otherwise, to dispose of the stock referred to and divorce the coal company from the Central railroad.

STATE COAL TAX VOID

Supreme Court Rules 1915 Act Creates Inequality Tax Burden.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 29.—The act of the legislature levying a tax on anthracite coal and providing for the collection and distribution of such a tax on the coal mined within the state was declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court in a decision handed down.

The opinion says the act creates an inequality of burden.

The opinion, which was written by Justice Stewart, was rendered in the case of the Commonwealth against the Alden Coal company and reversed the judgment of the court of common pleas of Dauphin county. Justices Potter and Frazer dissented.

Relieves The Worst Cases Of Catarrh

Think "Hymoi the Most Wonderful
Treatment for Catarrh Ever Discovered."

Do not try to cure catarrh by using sprays or lotions; it cannot be cured in that manner. The only way in which this too common disease can be fully relieved is through a direct application to the affected parts that will kill the bacilli of catarrh and prevent their growth.

Breathing the air of Hymoi is the only known method of treatment that can really accomplish this. It is the simplest, most pleasant and probably the most reliable treatment for catarrh that has ever been discovered.

The complete Hymoi outfit is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hymoi to last several weeks. This will effect instant relief in ordinary cases, but for chronic and deep-seated cases of catarrh longer use may be necessary, and then an extra bottle of Hymoi can be obtained for a trifling sum. It is not alone the best (it might be called the only) method of treating catarrh, but it is also the most economical.

The People's Drug Store have so much confidence in the power of Hymoi to relieve catarrh, that they will for a limited time, sell this medicine under their personal guarantee to refund the money if the purchaser can say that it did not benefit.

Barking Up the Wrong Tree

By MARTHA V. MONROE

My engagement to Stewart Barnes brought me a great deal of happiness, which was suddenly broken in a very singular way. One day while shopping, in order to examine goods, I laid my bag on the counter. I was hunting for something difficult to find and visited several stores. Finding what I wanted, I opened the bag to take out my purse and at once discovered that I had changed bags with some one else. My portemonnaie was not there, but instead I found $10 in bills. Among other articles was an unsealed letter addressed to Evelyn Tewkesberry, general delivery of the postoffice.

Thinking that the letter would help me to find the person with whom I had made the exchange, I took the letter from the envelope and read it. It was short and to the point:

Will be at the corner of Eighth and Locust streets at 7:30 tonight, made up for seedy individual with green spectacles, wear thick veil and carry valise in left hand. STEWART.

Great heavens! Could I have stumbled on a letter my own Stewart had written to some other woman appointing a clandestine meeting? I trembled. Whether it was through force of imagination I know not, but I recognized my Stewart's handwriting. To further confirm my suspicion, there was a postscript, "Anna is watching me." My name is Anna.

Here were three elements pointing to my lover's identity with this Stewart whose name was signed to the letter, though one of the three, the handwriting, was doubtful. I had not been long familiar with Stewart Barnes' writing, and could not be sure that what I saw he had written; nevertheless I had no doubt of it. At any rate I determined to profit by my find. But how should I proceed? I shrank from interrupting the meeting as beneath me. Instead I put the letter in a new envelope, read-dressed it, and, inserting a slip of paper stating that I had exchanged bags with its owner, giving my address, I dropped the letter in a mailbox. I also put in a note to Stewart breaking our engagement.

The next day a messenger brought me my bag containing the articles in it when it was exchanged and a request for the one in my possession. I returned it, and, so far as the owner was concerned, I was at quits. There remained to settle with Stewart. I presumed he would come to see me posthaste to learn what was the trouble, for I had given him no inkling as to my discovery of his perfidy.

The day after the one on which I had posted my letter to Stewart passed, and he neither appeared nor wrote. I had assumed that if his conscience was clear he would come to me at once; if I had really caught him in a delinquency he would recognize the fact that I had discovered his deception and would either try to beg off or would accept his dismissal without a word. Then, too, he might really prefer the Tewkesberry woman, in which case I should probably not hear anything from him.

Three days passed without a word. Nothing is so tantalizing as ignorance of some important matter one is very much interested in knowing. Every day that passed left me in a more agitated condition than the preceding. Why had I not stated to my lover my reason for breaking my engagement?

I had not foreseen this result. One of two courses was open to me, either to call on Stewart for an explanation of my discovery or to write to Evelyn Tewkesberry to learn from her if her correspondent was my Stewart. Thinking the latter course would be the easier for me, I followed it.

For several days I waited impatiently for a reply and then broke down completely. I was ready to forgive my lover, innocent or guilty. But my pride held me back from doing what I should have done in the first place; that is, stating the case to Stewart and asking him if he was the writer of the letter I had stumbled on.

Since I could not bring myself to do this, I determined to try again to reach the Tewkesberry woman. I wrote her a note and hired a boy to watch the general delivery for the claimant. He reported that the letter had been taken from the postoffice by an old woman, who had given her name as Evelyn Tewkesberry. He had followed her from the postoffice and had noted the house where she lived.

This was a surprise to me. But upon ferreting out the matter I went to the house and asked for Mrs. or Miss Tewkesberry. An old woman came into the room where I was and asked me what I wanted. Was she Evelyn Tewkesberry? She was. Did she know a man of the name of Stewart Barnes? She did not. I then told her that I was the person who had taken up her bag by mistake and asked her to explain the letter it had contained. She berated me for reading the letter and declined to explain it. I left her no wiser than I came, except that I was conscious of having made a fool of myself in sending away a lover without a hearing. It would have been even wiser for me to appear at the meeting appointed in the letter.

Resolved to "eat humble pie," I sent for Stewart, and he came to see me. I think he had intended to crush me, but when he saw my altered appearance he took me in his arms, and I cried awhile before telling him of my terrible mistake.

Uncle Eben.

"Don't get discouraged, son," said Uncle Eben, "if you find you can't do what you're tryin' to. Mebbe it's puttin' you in trainin' to do somethin' that you kin."

ABOUT 300,000 BABIES DIE BEFORE ONE YEAR

The Census Bureau estimates that 300,000 babies died in this country last year before the age of one year, and it is stated that one-half of these deaths were needless if all mothers were strong and infants were breast-fed.

Expectant mothers should strive to increase their strength with the strength-building fats in Scott's Emulsion which improves the blood, suppresses nervousness, aids the quality of milk, and feeds the very life cells.

Physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion; it is doubly important during nursing. No alcohol. Every druggist has it. Insist on Scott's—the white-food medicine. No advanced prices. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 15-27
